

Warm up your holiday season at the City Hall Tree Lighting Ceremony

On Tuesday, December 7, Columbus Mayor Michael B. Coleman, City Councilman Kevin Boyce and Recreation and Parks Executive Director Wayne A. Roberts will be joined by youth from the Kids In Government program to host Columbus' official holiday tree lighting ceremony at City Hall. The ceremony will take place on the South Plaza, starting at 5 p.m.

This year's honorary tree is a 40-foot Norway Spruce donated by Don Fritch who is a resident from the west side of Columbus. The tree is decorated with sparkling white lights, glistening garland, silver bells, dazzling stars, bright red bows and festive candy canes.

The annual tree lighting tradition will feature performances by the Columbus Children's Choir, the Glo-ettes dance troupe, and a special visit from Santa to make the festivities complete. Delicious holiday treats will be provided courtesy of Keebler and Starbucks Coffee.
